Dear Sir / Madam,

Warm greetings from Jeevan Parivar.

I trust the past year was good for you as well as the faculty, students and staff of your institution in terms of physical as well as mental fitness.

As the challenges being faced by people keep on increasing everyday, each one of us needs to help create awareness in removing the stigma attached to talking about mental health. We ourselves also need to understand the symptoms of anxiety, stress and depression in order to be able to understand the behavioural changes in those around us and be able to help them.

As you may be aware, we at Jeevan conduct workshops for students to make them understand stress and educate them on how to handle it. We would be happy to organise one such workshop for your students. It would help them empower themselves emotionally for any kind of situation.

As you are aware, 10th September is observed as the World Suicide Prevention Day. The theme given by International Association for Suicide Prevention for 2024-27 is 'Changing the narrative on suicide' - start the conversation. It aims to promote talks on mental health, suicide and suicidal behaviour, helping reduce the stigma attached to it.

Like previous years, this year too we are organising a few activities to observe this day and create awareness in youth. We request you to encourage your students to participate in them. The details of the same are as follows:

1. Taking out a rally around an area close to your premises.

We request you to select a date between 3rd and 10th September to take out a rally, with at least 50 students. Minimum of two volunteers from Jeevan would join in the rally. We would be sharing the soft copies of slogans with you. Children can be given printouts of the same to make placards. Our volunteers would be bringing some handbills to be distributed to the passersby, residents and shop owners of that area. Please inform us of the date, time, and number of students participating to help us plan a roster.

2. We would be organising the following competitions on Saturday, 31st August:

i) Nukkad natak:

Message to be conveyed:

'Changing the narrative on suicide' - start the conversation.

Time allotted: Maximum 3 minutes. Teams exceeding time limit would be penalised.

Language: Hindi

Gmail - Participation in activities to observe World Suicide Prevention Day

Number of Participants: Minimum 6 | Maximum 8

Props: Allowed. To be brought by the team.

Songs: A few lines of two songs need to be included in the script. One of them has to be on importance of life and the other on starting a conversation (sharing feelings related to anxiety, stress).

Bollywood songs could be used.

Names of the participants should be emailed to wspdcompetition2021@gmail.com latest by 25th August.

Decision of the panel of judges would be final. Top three would be selected for prizes. Certificates would be given to all the participants.

ii) T shirt painting:

We would be providing white T shirts. Only the front side of the T shirt needs to be worked upon. The participants have to bring their own pencils, erasers, fabric colours, etc. Acrylic or other washable colours may also be used for painting. Those wishing to use boards may bring them.

Theme: Slogans on importance of mental health

Time allotted: One hour

Language of slogan: English or Hindi

Number of Participants: Maximum 2 (participating individually)

Names of the participants should be emailed to wspdcompetition2021@gmail.com latest by 25th August.

Decision of the panel of judges would be final. Top three would be selected for prizes. Certificates would be given to all the participants.

iii) Debate :

Topic: The effectiveness of Essential Mental Health Education in Educational Institutions

Time allotted: 2 minutes to each speaker

Language: English or Hindi (Both participants have to select the same language)

Number of Participants: 2 (one to speak for the motion and one against)

Names of the participants should be mailed to wspdcompetition2021@gmail.com latest by 25th August.

Decision of the panel of judges would be final. Top three would be selected for prizes. Certificates would be given to all the participants.

Venue for the events to take place on 31st August would be RMS, Khutadih school auditorium.

Please note that the certificates for all participants and prizes for the winners would be handed over during the WSPD program to be held on 10th September.

The winning teams for the nukkad natak competition would be requested to perform during the WSPD program on the 10th September evening.

Looking forward to a good participation from your institution.

Together we can change the narrative and remove the stigma related to mental health.

Thanking you for your continuous support to this cause,

With warm regards,

Exploring India's Sustainable Water Management Practices

• Mousumi Dutta, Assistant Professor, DBMS College of Education, Msmdt82@gmail.com

ABSTRACT

The article explores India's traditional sustainable water management practices, emphasizing their historical significance and contemporary relevance. Utilizing a historical research method, we examine ancient techniques such as step wells, rainwater harvesting, and community-managed irrigation systems that have sustained local populations for centuries. As India grapples with an escalating water crisis, characterized by depleting groundwater resources and erratic rainfall patterns, reviving these time-tested practices offers a viable solution to enhance water security and promote ecological balance. The research highlights successful case studies where traditional methods have been reintroduced, leading to improved water availability and community resilience. By bridging the gap between past wisdom and modern challenges, this study advocates for integrating traditional practices into current water management policies. The findings suggest that a renewed focus on sustainable techniques can not only mitigate the ongoing water crisis but also foster a deeper appreciation for cultural heritage and community engagement in resource management.

Introduction

Water is the essence of life, serving as the building block for all living organisms. It covers about 70% of the Earth's surface and makes up around 60% of the human body, underscoring its critical role in sustaining life. Every biological process, from cellular functions to digestion, requires water. It helps regulate body temperature, transports nutrients and oxygen, and flushes out toxins. Water is also essential for the survival of ecosystems, supporting plants, animals, and aquatic life. Without it, ecosystems would collapse, food production would cease, and life as we know it would be impossible. Life without water is unimaginable. Civilizations have historically flourished near water sources, recognizing it as vital for agriculture, industry, and everyday survival. Lack of access to clean water still causes widespread suffering, leading to health crises and conflicts. Its abundance ensures life continues, while its scarcity spells disaster. As climate change threatens global water supplies, preserving and managing this resource is increasingly critical for human and environmental well-being.

Here we can get the information of Employee master.

Before adding any Employee make sure that there is atleast one entry in each master.

Here we can create Employee and assign all setting to it by selecting Employee Group and other master.

To add new Employee: If you press "Click here to add new Employee" then Employee, add form will pop out. Here Employee code and Employee Name are mandatory. Press Save to save the details.

To Edit existing Employee: If you want to edit the existing Employee the double click on the Employee row which ever want to edit, edit form will pop out, then you can edit the Employee. Remember you cannot edit the Employee code.

To delete the Employee: You can see the red button at the bottom of the page. Click on any row which you want to delete then click delete button, then press "Yes" in confirmation box to delete then that Employee will be permanently deleted from database.
